APA Membership:

To apply for the Member category, you must have a doctoral degree in psychology or a related field from a regionally accredited graduate or professional school or a school that achieved such accreditation within 5 years of the doctoral degree (or a school of similar standing outside of the United States). This degree must be based, in part, upon a psychological dissertation or other evidence of proficiency in psychological scholarship. Degrees from foreign institutions must show U.S. equivalency. APA may require additional information to evaluate qualifications for membership.
